

DATTCO Offers Federal Employees Free Rides to Work on its South Coast Massachusetts Bus Line

Fairhaven, MA, January 22, 2019: In recognition of the current government shutdown affecting federal employees across our nation, DATTCO offers its assistance to help ease the financial burden to those employees that utilize DATTCO's south coast Massachusetts service to and from Boston. From now until the government is reopened, DATTCO will offer free daily transportation to work for any unpaid federal government employee traveling to and from Boston.

"DATTCO is committed to being an integral part of the communities we serve, and that includes offering assistance to furloughed federal workers during the government shut down," explained Don DeVivo, DATTCO President and second-generation owner. "Many are considered essential staff and are still required to report to work. We're here to help, and we'd like to do our part to lessen the burden on these employees and their families."

To receive your free ticket please visit one of DATTCO's ticket counters in Boston, New Bedford or Fairhaven and present proof of federal employment (ID badge, or another form of identification). A one-way or round-trip ticket will be provided on the day of travel.
